Adrian Kenny

Senior product designer

adrian@adriankenny.ca · adriankenny.ca
linkedin.com/in/adriankenny · Thunder Bay, Ontario

I design AI and B2B products that people trust with real work, and I prototype them in production code alongside engineers. Fourteen years in product design, from an early team at Kik to AI agents.

Now

Freelance product designer · adriankenny.ca

Feb 2022 – now

Cowboy · an AI agent platform, announced November 2026

Jun 2026 – now

- Designed the whole dashboard, from the builder chat to the store, and ship it myself in the production-shaped React app.
- Redesigned the chat's tool calls from announcement-day screenshots in two days. Production merged it within a week.

Popl · event lead capture for sales teams, through Morgan Co

2022 – now

- Designed Popl's move from digital business cards to an event lead platform, across web and mobile.
- Designed Event Flows, the setup every event now runs on, and the new dashboard menu.

Bowtie · AI lead qualification, formerly Salesbot

Jun 2026 – now

- Turned AI qualification from a search filter into the core flow, with a review before anyone pays.
- Rebuilt the design system underneath: sidebar, colour tokens with dark mode, one component library.

Anokii · founder, designer and developer

Oct 2026 – now

- My own Mac and iPhone app for people who bill by the hour. It suggests time from what you worked on and drafts invoices on the 1st.
- Designed and built end to end in Swift and SwiftUI.

Before

TextNow · product designer, Waterloo

Jun 2017 – Mar 2020

- Worked with the design team on a rebrand, an iconography overhaul and a redesign of the iOS calling experience.

Kik · product designer, Waterloo

Jan 2012 – Jun 2017

- Joined when the company fit in one room, designed across almost every feature, and helped build the design team from scratch.

Skills

Product and interaction design · AI products · design systems · iconography · Figma · Claude Code · React · SwiftUI

Case studies at adriankenny.ca. Password on request.